arch_weekly note

I am sorry I wasn't able to attend the field day on Sunday. It sounds like a lot of fun was had by all.

This is an exciting week as our Professional Advisory Board will be here on Friday. We are meeting at APD West in the afternoon. Around 4 PM they will be touring studios to talk with students and find out what you are doing. Please welcome them and don't be afraid to introduce yourself. It is never too early to start your network. We are having a faculty reception at 6 PM at Box Lab for the PAB so faculty, please come.

Now that networking is functioning, those students who have not moved your computer in to APD West should do so. Working in studio with your classmates is one of the surest ways to get the most out of your architectural education. Our studio culture is the secret sauce to the quality of our program (OK, maybe all those hours in Seaton 63 contribute). You may think it inconvenient at times to work out there, but you not producing work that overcomes your expectations, is too high a price to not make the effort.

Have fun.

Professor and Department Head

The K-State Architecture Professional Advisory Board will be at APDesign West for their fall meeting on Friday, October 9th. To check out our board members visit this link. Faculty are invited to socialize with the PAB at Boxlab at 6:00 pm on Friday.

The first annual APDesign Field Day was a great success last Sunday! Thank you to the faculty and staff that came out to APD West to help and thank you to AIAS to organizing the day. There were five teams total that competed in a T-square relay race, capture the flag, polish horseshoes, awkward grapefruit, egg roulette, giant Jenga and pepper eating.

K-State Center for the Advancement of Entrepreneurship invites all K-State students with an entrepreneurial idea to compete for a prize pool of $20,000 in the 2015 K-State Launch competition. K-State Architecture has a history of being well represented at this competition. Read all about how to enter.

The Student Alumni Board, a program of the K-State Alumni Association, has opened a call for nominations for its Distinguished Young Alumni Award. The award, established in 2012, recognizes two Kansas State University graduates who are using the leadership and service experience they acquired at K-State to excel in their professions and contribute to their communities. Anyone may nominate a graduate for this award. The individual must be 35 or younger as of Oct. 1, 2015, and have graduated from K-State. Nominations are due by midnight Oct. 8. Selections will be made by a committee of Student Alumni Board members and members of the Alumni Association board of directors. The award recipients will return to K-State to deliver a lecture in the spring. The Student Alumni Board will also honor the recipients at a dinner and award ceremony that week.
