As the mail room and resource room located in Seaton west are to remain locked be sure to keep the key that accesses those rooms. Return ALL keys to spaces no longer existing, ie Seaton Court, former studios in Seaton east etc.. Keys should be returned to the office that issued them or if in doubt, the Dean's office.

Weigel Library

Weigel Library Updates

Periodicals, aka magazines!

Weigel Library has a large collection of top-notch periodicals with up-to-date information on projects, products, industry trends, individuals and firms. Weigel's periodical collection has titles specific to all four disciplines within the College of APDesign - in other words, we have something for everyone!

Much periodical content is too new to be in a book, plus periodical information is more extensive and complete than you can find online. Come in, take a look and see what you have been missing all this time!

But as always please avoid re-shelving the periodicals you have looked through. Let them lay on the tables or bring them to the circulation desk so their use can be tracked. Keeping usage statistics is important! Coming to APDesign in 2018-19!

Fuensanta Nieto will be the Regnier Distinguished Visiting Faculty Chair for the Department of Architecture for 2018-2019. She "has worked as an architect since graduating from the Universidad Politécnica de Madrid and the Graduate School of Architecture and Planning at Columbia University in New York in 1983. She is a founding partner of Nieto Sobejano Arquitectos and a professor at the Universidad Europea de Madrid."
<http://www.nietosobejano.com/info.aspx>

Information on and examples of the work of Nieto Sobejano Arquitectos' is on display in Weigel Library.

Stop in and see what is in store for APDesign in 2018-2019.

APDesign professor Condia selected as Regnier distinguished faculty chair

Kansas State University, College of Architecture, Planning & Design professor Bob Condia, member of the American Institute of Architects, was selected as the Victor L. Regnier distinguished faculty chair in the architecture department.

Condia is an architect and design partner with Condia+Ornelas Architects, Manhattan. He teaches architecture as an art form with a wide variety considerations from neuroscience to a building's terrestrial and celestial alignments and metaphysics and poetics of architectural design.

Condia has been a studio critic for 30 years in both architecture and interior design. In 2008 he received the Commerce Bank Distinguished Undergraduate Teaching Award; in 2015 he received AIA Kansas' Schirmer Award for service. His publications range from monographs on the works of progressive architects to theoretical articles on the experience of space as well as a catalogue of his own surrealist illustrations. His recent works include topics on neuroscience and architecture, the biological basis of aesthetic experience and the craft of teaching architects to teach. \(MORE\)

Photo Competition

Thomas A. Tyler and Answers Inc.
APDesign Architectural and Environmental Student Photography Competition will take place November 2017 for the Chang Gallery exhibition running Nov. 20 - Dec 1.

Professionals will evaluate the five categories of competition: black & white, landscape, exterior architecture, interiors & architectural details, and other subject matter.

Entries are due to the Communications & Events Office (214 Seaton Hall) by 5 p.m. Nov. 18.

If you are unable to bring in your entry you may mail it to the office. You may also email your entry form rather than sending it on a flashdrive or cd.

Commerce Bank and W.T. Kemper Foundation Undergraduate Outstanding Teaching Awards

The original and current purpose of these awards is to recognize excellence in teaching performance in the undergraduate program and to provide an incentive to achieve that goal.

There are four $2500 awards made each year for excellence in undergraduate teaching. One award is made each year in the College of Arts and Sciences. The other three awards are rotated each year among six of the other colleges (Veterinary Medicine and Technology and Aviation are excluded), with three colleges making the awards one year and the other three the following year.

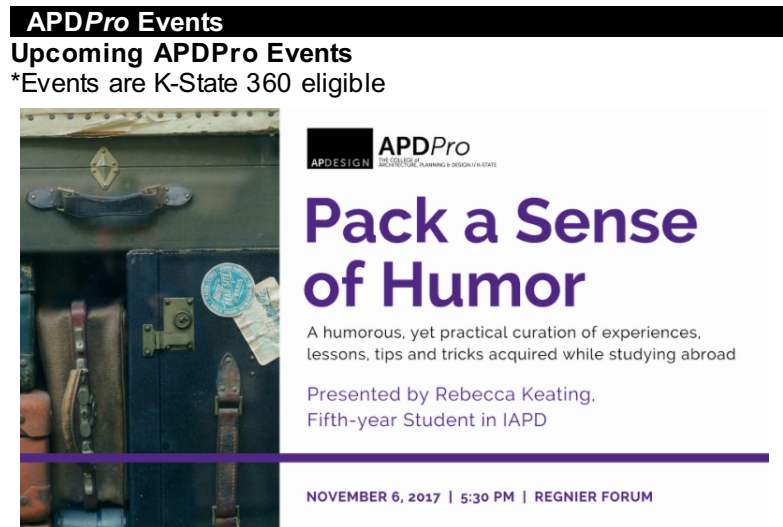

The final selections for these awards are made at the college level and all teachers are eligible. It is recommended that once an individual is selected to receive this award, that person should not be considered for a second award.

The selections for the awards are solicited from students, faculty, administrators. Nominations are submitted to the dean of the college in which the teacher is appointed. In order to be considered, the nominee must provide student evaluations from at least two but not more than three undergraduate classes that he or she has taught within the last three semesters. The student evaluations should be those obtained by participating in the program conducted by the Center for the Advancement of Teaching and Learning. It is the responsibility of the college deans to notify all nominees in their colleges of this requirement.
