RECRUITMENT PHOTO SHOOT

Friday, February 23rd

Faculty, Staff and Students, an University Photographer will be in the building between 1:30-4pm on Friday, February 23rd to take photos for use in our recruitment materials and on our website. Please be prepared to be asked to "lightly stage" some photo ops while in other instances we will just take photos while you are working. Please consider NOT wearing clothing with other school logos etc.

Also, please wave us down if you have something particularly interesting going on at your desk or in your space that you think would attract the interest of a prospective student. We want to capture the culture of APDesign through these images, the more you invest the better it will be. Feel free to write to Susan Lannou, susan@ksu.edu with questions or ideas for the shoot.

EKDAHL LECTURE SERIES
2017 - 2018

GINA FORD, FASLA
Principal, Agency Landscape + Planning will present a lecture titled
Designing for Resilience, Equity and Democracy
February 28, 2018 | 4:30PM, Regnier Forum

With the onslaught of challenges (and opportunities) associated with climate change, significant demographic shifts and increased political activism, what is the role of the landscape architect in designing for such change? Gina will discuss a series of projects at a variety of scales where landscape is a medium and catalyst for addressing resilience, equity and democratic action.

A smaller version of the portrait of Gina Ford is included in the bottom right corner of the complex block.

Weigel Library Updates

Cha-ching!

As a patron of Weigel Library you are responsible for the materials you borrow. It is important you know the loan periods, and due dates; otherwise it could cost you!

At the time of check out Weigel Library staff will tell you the due dates of the materials just loaned to you. Then they will send you via email an "activity report" providing an itemized list of library items in your possession and their due dates. That is the extent of their responsibility. You are ultimately accountable for the materials you check out and the fines you might incur!

Fine Charges -

2-hour reserve - $2 per hour, $200 maximum

1 to 7 day reserve - $5 per day, $70 maximum

Recalls (only made by library staff) - $5 per day, $25 maximum 7 day loan (bound periodicals and media) - $1 per day, $7 maximum

It is up to you – pay attention or pay the price!

Resource of the Week – 1000X...

Architecture of the Americas, European Architecture and Landscape Architecture – each title contains 1000 projects (building types or outdoor design) presented by means of concise text, outstanding photos and informative drawings.

Grad students: Take your scholarship to the next level with 'The Library and Your Research' –

APDPro: Storytelling – It's Not Just for Kids!*

[PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION, SPECIAL TOPIC]

Wed., Feb. 21, 5:30 p.m., Regnier Forum NOTE NEW DATE

Presented by Adam Herbig, IAPD alum and owner of DigBig, LLC. As a designer, whether you want to admit it or not, you are also in sales. The greatest design won't go anywhere if it doesn't connect with its intended audience. Get to the heart of why by connecting your presentations and designs through storytelling. This event is a requirement for 1st year APDPro students.

The poster features a yellow background with a decorative border of colorful geometric shapes (green, orange, blue, yellow) on the left side. At the top left is the APDPro logo. The main title 'STORYTELLING: IT'S NOT JUST FOR KIDS!' is in large, bold, orange letters. Below the title is a photo of Adam Herbig, a man in a suit, standing between two Minions. To the right of the photo is the text 'PRESENTED BY ADAM HERBIG' and the 'dig big LLC' logo. At the bottom, the date and time 'Wednesday, February 21 5:30 P.M., REGNIER FORUM' are displayed in red and orange. A green line of text at the bottom states 'This event fulfills a Professional Communication requirement for 1st year APDPro students.'
